Dear Friends of Safe Harbor,

As we enter the 2nd half of 2016, we have exciting things to be thankful for. Thanks to your generous support, we have had many success stories, and I'd like to tell you about a couple of them:

Our primary prevention program, the Relationship Education Project which brings healthy relationship curriculum to middle and high school students, saw its most impactful year yet! By the end of the 2015-2016 school year, our educators reached over 8,500 students with over 900 classroom hours of instruction. 93% of students surveyed reported that REP gave them useful information to help keep their relationships healthy.

For several years we have endeavored to create a therapeutic program for children living through domestic violence in their homes. Children who grow up in violent homes face incredible obstacles, and often end up as victims or perpetrators themselves. We are extremely excited to say that in July, we are bringing on board our very first children and family counselor and will start the work to build a new program for child/family counseling services.

Thanks to your gift, Safe Harbor is able to continue this important work of helping victims of domestic violence and their children, as we strive to move the needle in South Carolina, where more women are killed by their partners than anywhere else in the nation.

On behalf of our clients, staff and board of directors, thank you so much for your gift of $1,000.00 . We are grateful that you have joined us in this exciting period of changing the landscape of domestic violence in the Upstate. Your partnership is what makes our work possible, and helps us to influence a culture where all people are safe and valued in their relationships.

Peace to you,

Amanda Manly, Director of Development and Communications
